22. LearningProcess Type: Short answer

Comments on the learning process:

Number of users answered: 7

- The learning process in this research methods class was very effective and engaging. The course helped me better understand how research is designed, conducted, and analyzed in psychology. The assignments and class discussions made it easier to apply concepts like variables, research design, ethics, and data interpretation to real situations. The instructor explained complex topics clearly and encouraged critical thinking, which made the material easier to understand and more interesting overall.
- He makes the learning process actually very simple. he brings it down to our level so we completely understand very difficult concepts
- The learning process was both challenging and rewarding, and I feel that I gained a much deeper understanding of the material over the semester. Professor Bocker walks through the content in digestible pieces. He is very responsive to email and is always available whenever needed. He is one of my favorite/best professors that I have encountered here at Farmingdale during my undergraduates degree.
- N/A
